

THE SPACE SHIP

FRANK CEZAR

A Middle Grade, 24-hour Comic

About this book

Perhaps every teenage boy has dreamed of stumbling across a mysterious spaceship hidden deep in the woods. But what if it was not a dream? What if he could actually make it fly?

This is the beginning of a wild, funny, and at times terrifying adventure that rockets from a quiet forest to the farthest reaches of the galaxy.

Created in just 24 hours, written and drawn on October 18, 2008, at Comics Outpost in San Francisco, this book captures the stream-of-consciousness imagination of a journey into the unknown.

The Big guy's
called "planet"

if you're smart,
you don't cross
Planet.

don't look at
him...

don't talk
to him...

and if you want to
see the 8th grade...

that's my brother, G

People call him
that cuz he's
Smart.

"G" for
genius

Sometimes I
beg to differ.

You and your Sister are
dead, man!

I mean this one
time in 3rd grade
he ate a bee.

a live bee, and he
had to go to the Emergency room.

So if I call
him B,
you'll know
who I'm talkin about.

come back
here you Runts

but anyway.

Me and G
are insanely
fast on our
boards

I guess we'll
be late to school again.

G's heading to
the woods

We're not supposed to go in
there...

Bee Boy
I'm gonna
Kill you!

if the
ghost doesn't
kill us first.

don't be a wuss, Will

it's a..

banana
slug.

Jerk!

ha! ha!
ha!

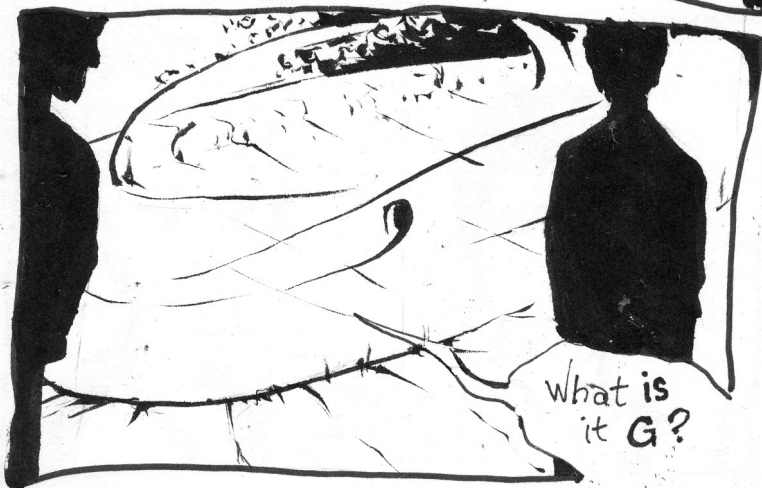

is it a
race car?

I think...

no. it
doesn't have
wheels.

what is
it G?

Let's try
to open
the door.

Cool.

What'd you
do, Will?

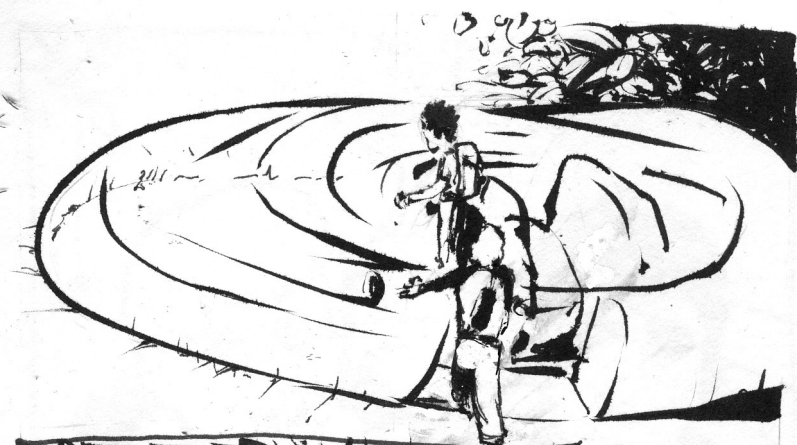

It opened
by itself!?

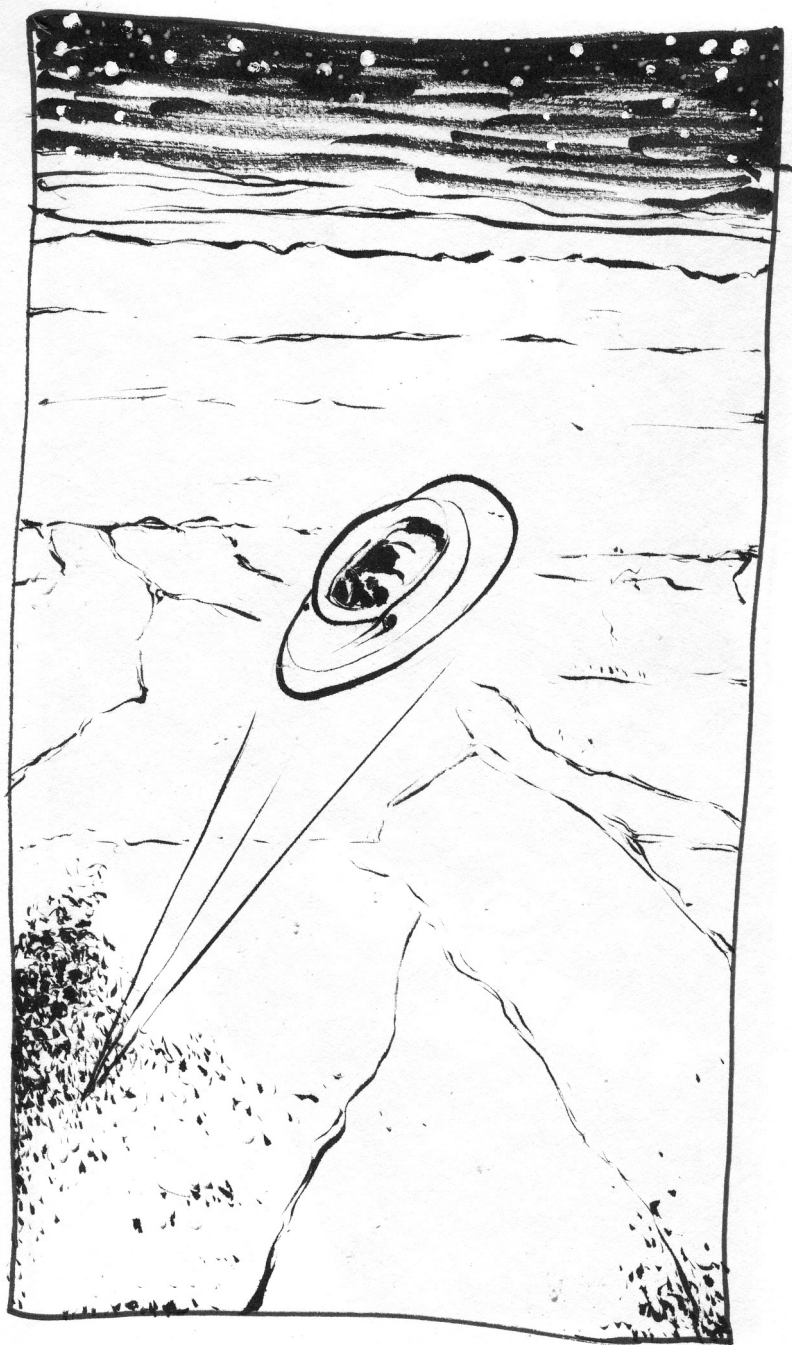

I have a good
feeling about this.

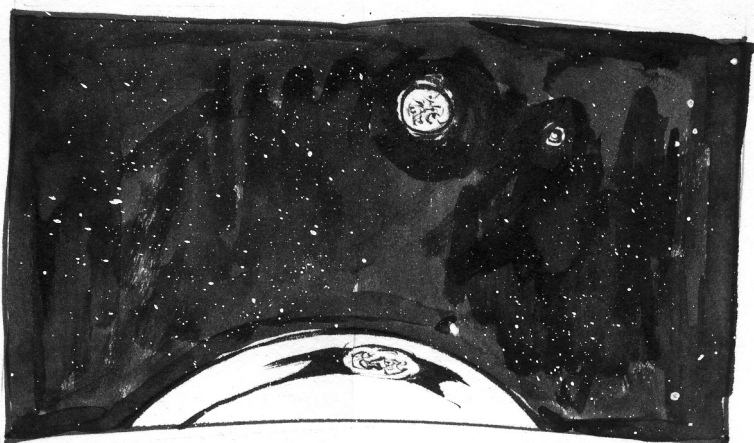

Son of a

bitchin!!

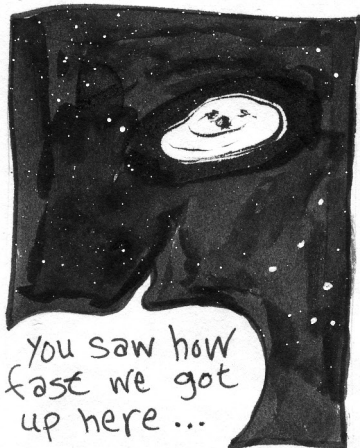

Will

what
do you
want to do now?

You Wanna
go to Mars?

dude, doesn't
it take a year
or something
to get
to mars?

you saw how fast we got
up here ...

it was
like 5 seconds.

Actually, our heads should have
imploded.

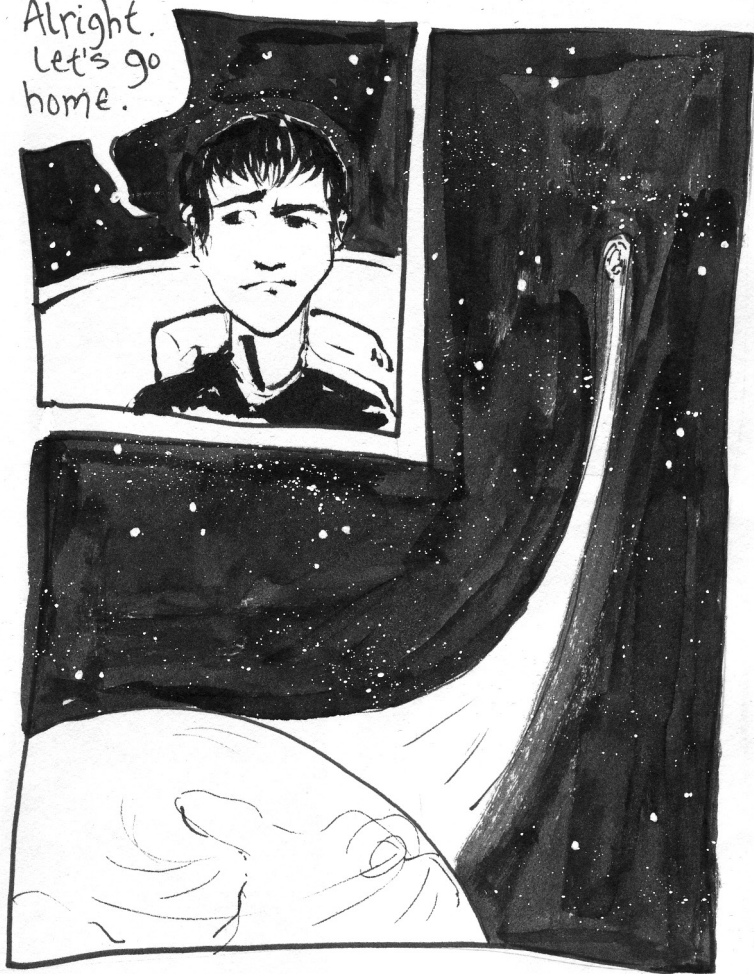

we have a
cool ship!

Let's go
home. We can ditch the
ship...

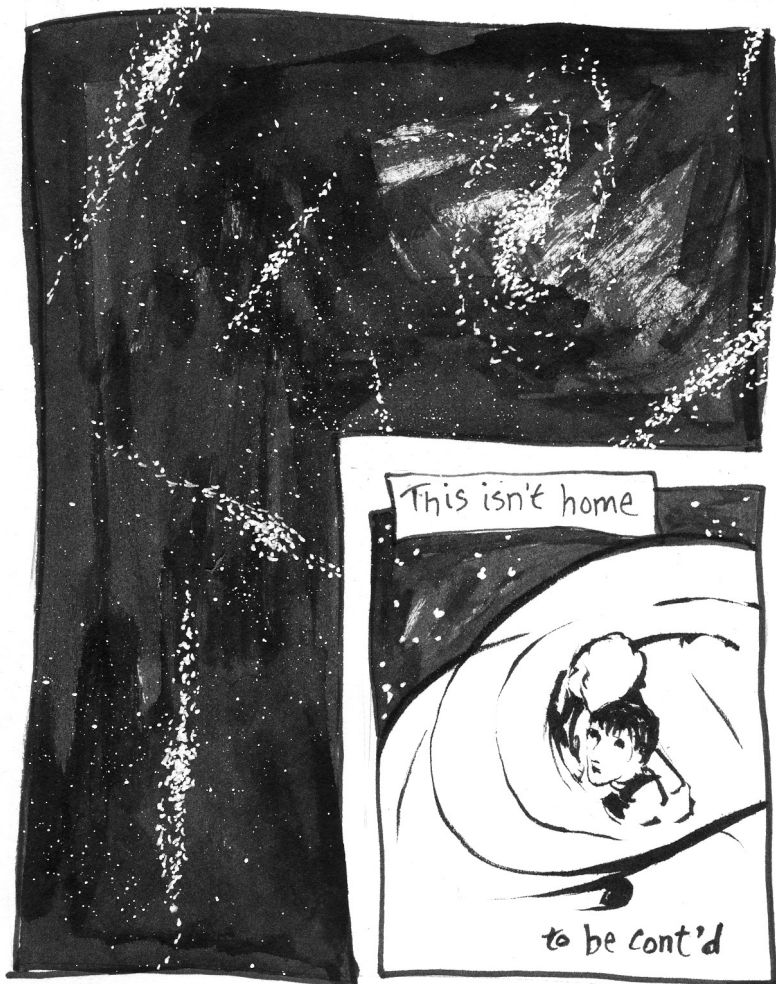

Alright.
Let's go
home.

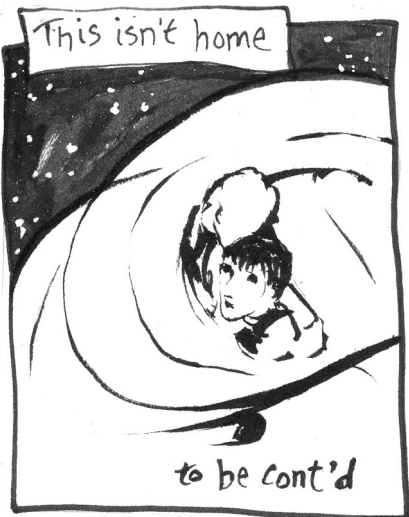

how did you
do that?

I didn't do
anything!!

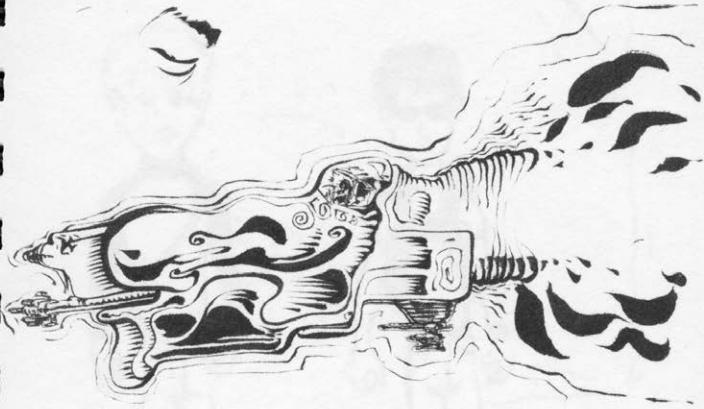

This isn't home

to be cont'd

This book was written and drawn in 24hrs, but the following character sketches were made in the days/weeks leading up to the book.

Will and G haven't discovered yet that the space ship does have guns, when it's in battle mode.

Gravity Shoes

Maybe later in the story, Will and G will trade their skateboards for gravity shoes.
